Monthly Newsletter - August 2023

Hello, Ram Networks users!

Welcome to the brand new, shiny "Ram Networks Monthly Newsletter - August 2023"! The school year is fast approaching, and I thought it would feel right to keep you updated on everything that has happened over the past couple summer months. I will also include a section for the OG NRMS users at the end!

What happened BTS during the summer:

Believe it or not, a few of us mods and editors were hard at work during our vacation. Now, most users were not using Ram Networks during the summer. However, here is a list of things that we did*:

- Helped create a brand-new network
- Created a TikTok, Instagram, Twitter, and Twitch account
- Started routinely posting Youtube videos
- Revamped parts of the doc and website
- Created a mysterious ARG
- Merged Ram Networks and EmuNetworks together to form one doc
- Created a few more alliances with other networks

For the NRMS students:

There's not much to put here. However, you can always stop by to say "Hi!" to Zach (theshmunguss1) and John (Yesn't) in person!

* - All links can be found on the main doc.

 - Nothing in these newsletters are considered canon. Only the website and subsequent links related to it.
